Part Seven - Sewing the 9-Patch Blocks into Paired Units

Last time in Part 6 you finished sewing all the 9-patch blocks. Now you start putting them into pairs. You will make a total of 7 different pair arrangements. Note: You will have 9 "A" Blocks left over when you make these pairs. This is as it should be.

1. Take an "A" Block and pair with a "B" Block. The B Block should have the "T" upside down to look like this. Make 10 of these pairs.

2. Take an "A" Block and pair with a "B" block. The B Block should have the "T" right side up to look like this. Make 5 of these pairs.

3. Take a "B" Block and pair with a "D" Block. The B Block should have the "T" with top to the right as shown below. Make 4 of these pairs.

4. Take a "B" Block and pair with an "E" Block. The B Block should have the "T" with the top to the right as shown below. Make only 1 of this pair.

5. Take an "A" Block and pair with a "C" Block. The C Block should have the "T" upside down a shown below. Make 8 of these pairs.

6. Take an "A" Block and pair with a "C" Block. The C Block should have the "T" right side up to look like this. Make 4 of these pairs.

7. Take a "C" Block and pair with an "F" Block. The C Block should have the "T" with the top to the right as shown. The Print fabric in Block F should run in the same direction as the print blocks of the T when paired as shown. Make 4 of these pairs.
