1. Click on the link in your text. It may be a regular URL link, or it may look something like this:

3. (Apple Device) Once the link has opened on your device, click the square with the upward arrow and then scroll down to “Add to Home Screen”.

iPhone

iPad

You may be required to open this link in Safari. Go ahead and do it, then look for the same square with the upward arrow and then scroll down to add the app to your home screen.

You also have the option to use the following QR code to download the app to your device.

On an Apple iPad, you'll be required to open the link in Safari. Click the square with the upward arrow, click "Open in Safari", then proceed as in the #3 instructions above.

On an Apple iPhone, you'll also be required to open the link in Safari. Click on the double squares in the bottom right-hand corner, click "Open in Safari", then proceed with the #3 instructions above.

If your device is older than 5 years, you may need to finesse these instructions to get it to work for you. I've tried it on a 2nd generation iPad and I was successful.
