Fabric Designer or Line	Fabric from my stash
Project Name:	Ohio Cardinals
Size of Project:	50 X 50 inches
Special tool or ruler:	Applipops, https://www.applipops.com/ for berries. Freezer paper for leaves.
Story about this quilt:	Our Heritage on a Small-Scale 2023 Challenge got me recalling the pleasure of watching Red Cardinals in the winter as a youngster. The cardinals are pieced. Leaves and berries are turned edge; used embroidery floss in blanket stitch to finish the leaves and berries. Stems are embroidered with pearl cotton. I changed the pattern by adding a female cardinal.

Size of Project:	Both are 42" X 42" —NICU quilts
Special tool or ruler:	Krista Moser's Creative Grids small diamond ruler, https://www.creativegridsusa.com/products/CGR60DIAMINI
Story about this quilt:	These two NICU quilts are a 'Thank You' to our program directors, Christie and Liz, who brought Krista Moser and Candy Grisham's wonderful presentations to MPS. I reduced Krista Moser's Fanfaire pattern, https://www.kristamoser.com/product-page/fanfaire-block-of-the-month to practice with the small diamond tool. After Candy Grisham's presentation, I immediately used several of her suggestions to improve my Dresden Plate block. Liked using interfacing to stabilize the block's center, card stock to press and design ideas.

Fabric Designer or Line Online/Blog Scraps mainly from old projects including daughter's 4-H quilts <https://www.laundrybasketquilts.com>

Project Name: Stars Upon Stars

Size of Project: 65" X 74"

Special tool or ruler: None

Story about this quilt: I started this quilt at Ocean Waves Quilt Camp in a class taught by Joyce Geiszler and it took me over a year to finish! The pattern is based on a hand-pieced and quilted antique quilt that was started in 1880 and finished in 1950. Combining 9 fabrics in the large stars was intimidating but I got the hang of it after the first few. I really liked using larger scale prints for peeks of color.

Book or Pattern All the Good by Jittery Wings pattern, <https://jitterywingsquiltco.com/shop/p/all-the-good-quilt-pattern-pdf-download>

Fabric Designer or Line I think it was a Moda fat quarter set plus I bought some coordinates

Project Name: I named it Wild Geese Landing at Sunset based on a sunset picture I had.

Size of Project: 65" X 65" approximately

Special tool or ruler: 2" X 4" Bloc Loc, <https://bloccloc.com/> for flying geese, and Bloc Loc 4" half square for half square triangles

Story about this quilt: This was the quilt pattern for a retreat and figuring it out for colors and arranging was new to me and I did not like it. So, I needed to stretch. I really disliked having to figure out the placement. It took me with help, from 8 am until 10 pm to do that. After it was all together, I really liked it. And even more after quilting.

Book or Pattern Dream Big Panel

Fabric Designer or Line Hoffman fabrics

Project Name: Dream

Size of Project: Dream Big
Special tool or ruler: FriXion Pen
Story about this quilt: I am new to free motion quilting. I saw this panel done in 2017, and loved it. I was so overwhelmed by the idea. I took a lesson at Montavilla Sewing Center, <https://www.montavillasewing.com/> after Covid when we could have classes again. The instructor used a FriXion pen for lines. I'd done more free motion by then and bought a used Tiara II sit down mid-arm. Was still overwhelmed but finally finished and I love it. Bought a Dream Bigger and another regular sized Terese

Book or Pattern: Korean Pajogi curtains
Online/Blog: Last Homely House
Project Name: Privacy
Story about this quilt: I saw the Pajogi curtains and wanted to use them somewhere. when I painted the living room a cream color, I realized that I could put up a privacy curtain and the Pajogi technique seemed the perfect way to do it. It added color and lets light in too. Now I want to make at least one more so I can change the colors as I please. Linda also showed a table runner that she hand-quilted.

Project Name: Christmas Stars
Size of Project: 43" X 43"
Special tool or ruler: used the 45-degree line on regular ruler
Story about this quilt: This was my 2nd or 3rd class taught by Clara at Jenkins Estate. She would pick the pattern and everyone worked on the same project. Vicky (one with cream background) finished hers. I had top done, partially quilted and didn't like it. Pulled it back out in 2023 and decided to make changes before finishing. Never give up on Unfinished Objects (UFOs)!

Project Name: Nifty Notions
Size of Project: 17" X 21" and 12" X 16"
Story about this quilt: I made the scissor and thread wall hanging in the workshop led by Christie and Liz in May 2023. In January 2024 I recalled I had the makings to do the featherweight machine and put it together. I enjoyed revisiting the scrappy appliqué technique. Quilting is straight line quilting with mono-filament thread.

Penquins
56" X 66"

Story about this quilt:

I challenged myself to find a way to use the penguin fabric designed by Charlie Harper in a quilt for CARES Northwest. There was just ½ yard of the fabric so my supply was limited. I thought Sam Hunter's pattern was a good way to feature the fabric.

Wintery Flowers
50" X 62"

Story about this quilt:

I used the Rainbow Color Challenge each month to select the fabric for one block looking first through my florals. It was quite fun to work just from my stash to find all the fabric, including batting I pieced together, for this quilt. This was another charity quilt.

What to do with a quilt you don't like

Size of Project:

40" X 40"

Story about this quilt:

I became inspired to clean out my stash on New Year's Eve. I found these blocks from a quilt that I was never going to pay to have quilted... So, being the frugal person I am, I could not make myself toss them. I could donate them to our auction hoping no one knew they were mine (lots of unintentional design changes), or alas...make some lap quilts to donate, hoping the recipient enjoys the warmth! Turned the UFO into 6 small quilts.
